NRB 2010 PRESS RELEASE - JANUARY 8, 2010

FCC requires educational Children's Programming - is your station complying?

Most Christian broadcasters will be aware of the FCC requirement to provide 'Core Programming' specifically designed 'to serve the educational and informational needs of children 16 and under' but often struggle to find high-quality Bible-based animated material for children which they can afford!

The answer is Friends and Heroes - the international award-winning animated series, showing on Booth 520 at NRB in Nashville 28 February - 2 March 2010!

Rights are now available to Christian broadcasters in eleven languages - including non-exclusive English rights worldwide. Those keen to obtain rights for their territory and language should visit Booth 520 during NRB 2010 to find out how easily you can comply with this FCC requirement!

Friends and Heroes has had a major impact wherever it has been shown! Viewers' comments include:

"We are eagerly awaiting release of Season Two; we watch one episode of season one each day!" SC

"We love your show and look forward to it every Saturday!" Brynn

"My 7 year-old daughter begs and pleads with me every week to watch the series over and over." Baker

"It's hard to find decent cartoons, especially bible based for my daughter to watch. She loves it. I want to thank you for making Friends and Heroes." LP

It's not just the critics and judges who like this show - viewers obviously like it too!

"The quality and inspiring Bible stories of Friends and Heroes has brought praise from both viewers and critics alike all around the world," said David Dorricott, Executive Producer.

"By placing 3D computer-animated Bible stories in a real-life context the children watching can really understand the meaning of each story and easily see how they can apply it in their own lives."

With three, 13 episode series available immediately, most made to HD video standard, this series has a long broadcast life.

Macky and Portia's first century adventures, presented in state-of-the-art 2D drawn animation, involve the viewers as the action moves across the ancient world from Alexandria, into the besieged city of Jerusalem and finally, to the very heart of the Empire: Rome.
